PSHE/ RSE is delivered through lessons targeted at Year 9, 10 and 11 learners whilst also being referenced throughout the Educ8 Curriculum linking into the vocational element of Educ8’s Learners programmes.

This policy has been developed to meet the statutory guidelines for Personal, Social, health and Economics (PSHE) as well as, in response to the Sex and Relationship Education Guidance DfES 2000, The National Teenage Pregnancy Strategy, National Healthy Schools Programme and PSHE and Citizenship framework, along with information and guidance from the PSHE association.

5. Purpose

Our Personal, Social Health, Economics (PSHE) and Relationship Sex Education (RSE) programme underpins our ethos of ensuring learners progress into further education and/or employment by ensuring that our learners become well respected citizens and play an active part within their local communities.

Sub-policy ISO 9001 – Educ8		Document #: 13-12	Issue: 1.3
Title: PSHE and RSE Policy		Page #: 6 of 25

Educ8 PSHE will be delivered using the Thematic Mode. This will cover all three core themes of the programme over six half terms. The model is designed so that all year groups Year 9, 10 and 11 learners will be working on the same core theme at the same time.

PSHE and RSE will also be reinforced throughout Educ8s curriculum where learners will have the opportunity to learn about the subject material however PSHE and RSE allows the learners to consider what this knowledge and understanding means to them and to develop the skills and strategies they will need to apply this knowledge in their present and future lives.

To ensure this Educ8 will focus on the three core themes:

- Health and Wellbeing
- Relationships
- Living in the wider world.

The aim of sex and relationship education is to help and support young people through their physical, emotional and moral development. A successful Sex and Relationship Education programme is essential if young people are to make responsible and well-informed decisions about their lives. It should not be delivered in isolation and should be well supported within the wider curriculum in particular PSHE. This will help young people learn to respect themselves and others and move with confidence from childhood through adolescence into adulthood.

Learners also need to be given accurate information and help to develop skills to enable them to understand difference and respect themselves and others and for the purpose of preventing and removing prejudice.

Sex and relationship advice should contribute to promoting the spiritual, moral, cultural, mental and physical development of learners at Educ8 to help prepare them for opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life within society.

6. Scope

This sub-policy applies to all staff and support workers that work within the programme team delivering qualifications. In particular those members with teaching responsibilities.

Educ8 will aim to help support the transition for learners from KS4 into Further education/ training or employment.

PSHE/RSE will cover issues and areas of life which our learners will be affected by in different ways and at different times. As such we cannot make assumptions based on the learners age or year group about their existing knowledge, understanding, attributes, skills, beliefs and attitudes.

It is essential to assess learning and progress effectively, it is important to carry out a baseline assessment before teaching any new content. Educ8 will use Ipsative assessment to gather baseline data and end of topic data to record progress made for each learner.

Assessment for learning will take place at the end of the lesson or series of lessons, learners should have opportunities to demonstrate the progress they have made from their starting point assessed in the baseline activity.

The following process will be used in order to track progress:

- Baseline Assessments
  - Baseline assessments will be conducted at the beginning of each topic/ new piece of learning through the use of a “thought shower”. (Other ways of baseline assessments can be used at tutors discretion taking into account individual/ group needs (See A1.2 - Ipsative Assessment Matrix)
  - Learners will record score of entries within thought shower to identify level of knowledge based on the following:
    - No Knowledge - 0
    - Partial knowledge - 1-4
    - Good Knowledge - 5-8
    - Advanced Knowledge - 9+
- Assessment for learning
  - Assessment for learning will take place at the end of a topic or piece of learning. Learners will revisit the “Thought shower”. A new scorescoe is worked out and compared with the baseline score to identify levels of progress.
